SCHOOL REPORT.

A decade has passed since the twentieth century was ushered in. A decade that has stood for progression in nearly every line. Looking backward for the past ten years, do we find advancement in our schools, commensurate with that which we might reasonably expect?

In September, as per truant officer's report 140 pupils were registered: boys 67, girls 73. Nine schools have been maintained thirty-two weeks.

The Patten Hill was closed for the winter term of eight weeks and the pupils transported to East Candia school at a cost of $28.

There has been no change of text books. New books have been purchased to replace those worn out and destroyed.

Supplementary reading has been introduced in some schools by the teachers, in others by the school board. In a number of schools the pupils have bought the books, wishing to own them. It seems sad that in the years to come, pupils of today will regret that they do not possess their old school books, so many happy memories cluster around them.

Our schools, as a whole, have been satisfactory, the teachers earnest and painstaking in their work, in and out of school hours, although it seems more and more a problem to secure up-to-date teachers outside the agencies; and sometimes despite the best of recommendations we are not sure we have secured a suitable teacher.

In such a way we were unfortunate in the spring term of the village school, but were later fortunate in securing the services of an approved teacher—one holding a state certificate—for the remainder of the year, and although the statistical table gives the salary of this teacher as $48 per month, the town really pays ten dollars, per week, as the state reimburses the town two dollars per week for all teachers holding a state certificate. In all other schools efficient work has been done.

School houses are nearly all in good repair. The Tower Hill house being the only one to receive extensive repairs. In others, minor repairs have been made, and all are supplied with modern seats, except the Island house.

The teachers have been selected not alone for physical and intellectual endowment, but also for purity of character, and high ideals of their chosen profession—the development of the best in the young lives entrusted to their care.

Often by her example and influence, a teacher can draw her pupils to the highest ideas of truth and morality, and the one who best succeeds, must always be the one who has the highest ideals of life herself, and strives to attain them. Hence a teacher whose moral ideas and character are not sound, cannot safely care for the morals of her pupils.

The opening exercises of the schools consisting of Bible reading, repeating the Lord's prayer, and 23d psalm, have been supplemented in some schools by the introduction of the story of the Syrian Guest, descriptive and explanatory of the psalm, by a Syrian, a pamphlet sent to a member of the school board by Jesse W. Sargeant.

We must live with reference to the citizens to come and the public school is the heritage which the nation offers for its future existence, 'tis the source of its prosperity, and it must see to it that only the best are employed in its support and the richest satisfaction that can come to any one, is the wealth of loving gratitude which comes back across the years, from the lives of those who in childhood were blessed by the pure example and loving advice of a conscientious teacher, such a teacher's influence glorifies the life with which it comes in contact.

'Tis said that the monks of Constantinople mingled attar of roses with the mortar as the walls of the church of St. Sophia were erected twelve centuries ago, and today the pilgrim may detect the fragrance of the roses.

Thus a beautiful character will linger in memory while life lasts..

With the hope that our children may be trained in paths of honor, this report is respectfully submitted.

LUCIE A. E. HOLT,
OSCAR FISK,
BENJAMIN F. LANG,
